Vortex Industries, a leader in commercial door repair services, is pleased to announce the acquisition of American Door and Dock, a leading dock equipment and commercial door repair services company serving the greater Chicagoland area. This strategic acquisition is part of Vortex's growth and expansion and allows the company to support the growing needs of construction and facility maintenance throughout the market.

Vortex has a strong track record of innovation and excellence. The acquisition of American Door & Dock enhances Vortex's ability to deliver comprehensive door repair services while expanding its offerings to better serve its customers. The integration of AD&D's expertise in dock equipment, high speed doors, and warehouse doors enhances Vortex's products and services, improves customer response time, and strengthens Vortex expertise as it expands nationally.

Kristin Slyker, CEO of Vortex doors commented, "We are excited to join forces with American Door & Dock, an industry leader whose mission, vision and values directly align with Vortex. The integration process began in August and are conscious of making a seamless transition for our customers, employees, and vendor partners. Vortex is committed to maintaining the highest standards of service and innovation to continue delighting customers".

Welcome to the Vortex family!
